BUENOS AIRES, July 10.—The situation in Sao Paulo, Brazil, where rebellious troops of the state army have seized the principal military barracks, is increasingly grave, according to private advices here today.

One report says the entire city is in the hands of the rebels. Private advices said that instead of the government having overcome the revolt, the mutiny has spread until the rebels control the metropolis. "Dead and wounded are strewn everywhere," one dispatch said.

A food shortage is beginning to be felt in the city of Sao Paulo. Governor Carlos de Campos of Sao Paulo state has either fled or been taken prisoner, other advices said. It is reported the seat of the Sao Paulo state government has been moved from the city of Sao Paulo to Santos.

Three federal battleships are at present in the Santos Harbor.

Five hundred refugees arrived in Santos from Sao Paulo city Wednesday, according to the private messages, and said the rebels were discussing formation of a new government.

There also are rumors of mutiny among a section of the crew of the warship Minas Geraes.

The garrison of Fort Itaipu has rebelled, holding up part of the federal reinforcements en route to Sao Paulo city, reports said. One federal battalion also reported to have joined the mutineers.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Rudolph Spreckles, San Francisco banker and political reformer, today issued a strong statement endorsing the candidacy of Senator Robert LaFollette for the presidency on an independent ticket and called upon all progressives to give Wisconsin senator support.

"An opportunity to end military control of our national government is at hand," Spreckles' statement said.

Spreckles, himself a Republican, declared that Progressive leaders had done their best to imbue both parties during the national convention with a forward looking spirit, and had failed.

"The people must look elsewhere than to the Republican and Democratic parties for a progressive presidential candidate and platform," the statement declared.

Spreckles said organization of Progressives behind LaFollette will be started at once in California.

Woman Suicide as Injuries Fatal to Mate

BEND, Ore., July 10.—Mrs. George Jones, aged 33, whose husband died early today of injuries inflicted in an automobile accident on the fourth of July, shot herself through the heart at 8:30 this morning. Ever since her husband was hurt she has been constantly with him and on his death she gave way under the strain.

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—Jack Allen Rogers, charged with holding up a Security Trust and Savings bank branch at Central and Slauson March 31, today changed his plea from "not guilty," to "guilty," and was given a sentence of from five years to life.

Rogers pleaded "guilty" after an insanity defense had been introduced by his attorney. The bandit is said to have been president of a Kansas City Bible class some years ago.

YOUNG BANDITS STAGE $2000 BANK RAID

RED BLUFF, Cal., July 10.—Two youthful bandits today held up the bank of Tehama county here and escaped in an automobile with about $2000 in cash.

The bandit car was reported seen south of Red Bluff several minutes later, heading toward Chico.

HIGH SCHOOL YOUTH U. S. TEAM HERO

Hollywood Boy Wins Pole Vault at Paris; Americans
Increase Lead

(By United Press Leased Wire)
COLOMBES STADIUM, PARIS, July 10.—The Stars and Stripes were flying from three Olympic flagpoles here today at the close of the fifth day of the track and field games, following the winning of the first three places in the pole vault by the United States.

Lee Barnes the youthful Hollywood, California, high school lad, surprised the experts by winning the pole vault from such performers as Glenn Graham, of California Tech., and James K. Brooker, University of Michigan, who were second and third respectively.

Ralph Spearow, University of Oregon, who was expected to win the event just came within the money by winning sixth place.

Although everyone of the above quartet cleared the bar at 13 feet in the tryout at Harvard stadium, the winning height today was 12 feet 8 1/2 inches.

The Americans' performance in this event added 10 points to the United States' totals for the game, giving America a comfortable lead over Finland, as Tootell and the other hammer throwers added sixteen more points in their event.

Finland won two firsts, both to the credit of their wonderful runner, Nurmi.

The point score at the end of the fifth day was:

United States 177; Finland 193; England 46 1/2; Sweden 24 1/2; France 13 1/2; Switzerland 10; Hungary 7 1/2; South Africa 5; New Zealand 4; Norway 4; Denmark 3; Canada 2.

Nurmi's time in the 1500 meters was 3:53.3, one second short of his own world's record.

FILM CITY PLANNING TRIBUTE TO ATHLETE.
HOLLYWOOD, July 10.—The studio city turned from thoughts of makeup and make believe today to exult over the victory of Lee Barnes, 18-year-old local youth, in taking first place in the pole vault at the Paris Olympic games.

Shortly after United Press dispatches relating Barnes' feat were posted by the Hollywood Citizen, leading business men of the film city met to plan a monster reception for the youth when he returns home. It will be a royal welcome to the young athlete, who outclassed the world's best pole vaulters.

TAKE STEPS TO CHECK SOUTH FIRE PERIL

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, July 10.—Realizing that the danger from forest fires this season is more acute than for two decades, the Southern group of the recently organized citizens' committee on fire prevention was today through its chairman, A. C. Hardison, president of the farm bureau federation, appointing an executive committee and sub-committees to organize a campaign to mitigate the fire menace.

A meeting called yesterday at the instance of United States District Forester Redington, was attended by fifty of the leading members of the California Development association in this section, who constitute the committee's southern group.

"A real emergency faces California in the menace presented by forest fires," Col. Redington said. "Already 658 fires have been taken place this season as against only 151 the last year up to this time. Estimated losses up to this period aggregate nearly $900,000 and we still have three months of the fire season before us."

This organization, formed to fight the forest fire menace in Southern California, will be part of a state-wide movement, the head of which is a committee consisting of A. B. C. Dohmann, Paul Shoup and R. B. Hale of San Francisco; C. C. Tague of Santa Paula, and Harry Chandler of Los Angeles.

Student Plots To Murder Japan Prince

He was overpowered and arrested before he had opportunity to harm the prince.

Police said they found that Noda was a supporter of the "Horizontal Society," an organization made up of social outcasts, and that he charged Tokugawa with responsibility for oppression of the outcasts.

HUGE GAINS IN BUILDING WORK SHOWN

Permits Issues In 322 Cities for First Semester of 1924 Total $1,959,459,559.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Building permits issued in 322 principal cities during the first semester of 1924 amounted to more than $1,959,459,559, a gain of eight per cent over the same period last year, S. W. Strass and company announced today.

Gains for the period include: New York, $133,451,325; Detroit, $22,193,000; Cleveland, $3,569,440; Milwaukee, $3,000,000; Seattle, $3,000,000; San Francisco, $2,127,477; Portland, $2,000,000; Dallas, $2,000,000; Louisville, $1,500,000; Denver, $1,000,000.

MONEY IS HERE FOR BUILDING SAYS BANKER

Money is plentiful in Santa Ana for legitimate building operations, Alex Brownridge, cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' Savings bank, declared here today.

The statement by the banker was made in denial of rumors to the effect that money for such enterprises was tightening here.

Stating that this is the season of the year where bank money is going out instead of coming in, Brownridge said that it may be true that the financial institutions do not have the money now as is had in seasons where returns are being received from crops.

"But there is no scarcity of money for legitimate purposes," he added. "Building has slowed down here, as it has in other cities, and there is not the demand now for loans for building that there was a year ago or even six months ago."

"The lull is more or less seasonal; however, and in my opinion, building will come back strong a little later."

Bar Lenglen From Olympic Matches

PARIS, July 10.—Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, former world tennis champion of the world, has been forbidden by her physicians to participate in the Olympic games, she wired the United Press from Pourville today.

The news disappointed the Americans here who had counted upon witnessing the long deferred match between Lenglen and Helen Wills.

PAY TRIBUTE TO SON OF PRESIDENT

Great Throng of Home Folk Attend Brief Services
For Youth

(By United Press Leased Wire)
NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 10.—Funeral services for Calvin Coolidge Jr., were held today in the little brick church where he took his first communion.

The service was short; it was quiet and restrained, but the plain folk who sat crowded in stiff-backed pews, heard it with misty eyes.

Dr. Kenneth B. Wells, pastor of the Edwards Congregational church, conducted the funeral, assisted by the Rev. Jason Noble Pierce of Washington. Throughout the service, Mrs. Coolidge presided over her composure. She was seated between Secretary of State Hughes and the President. Next to the President was his father, Colonel John Coolidge of Plymouth, Vt.

Throng at Service.

Also with the party were Attorney General and Mrs. Stone and Secretary of War Weeks—the President's most intimate cabinet friends. Northampton's tribute was not restricted to those who had filled the church and rose respectfully as the presidential party entered.

For many blocks along the street, the populace was lined. The service opened with scripture, verses of faith chosen by Dr. Wells, followed by singing of "Pilgrims of the Night" by the Washington quartet. Dr. Pierce then made further biblical readings.

Then there was another hymn, an old favorite of the Coolidge family, "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me."

Dr. Wells paid to the dead boy the tribute of a neighbor and former spiritual adviser.

"The sadness of this homecoming binds us all very closely together and makes us more than ever aware of the love and loyalty which we of Northampton bear toward these honored friends who have come back to us," he said.

Tribute of Neighbor.

"There is something quite triumphant about this life which has been taken away. It was moved by youthful enthusiasm and it had its beautiful visions and its consecrations to duty and honor. It was a straight and honorable young life, sweetly naturally and still an inhabitant of two worlds, the material and the spiritual."

There was an alluring quality about him which assured him many friends and drew others to him with bonds of love."

After a short prayer the quartet sang once more, and the benediction was pronounced.

The congregation remained seated as Mrs. Coolidge passed out on the arm of the President, followed by her son, John and his grandfather.

The presidential party left at 10:30 a. m. for Plymouth, Vermont.

DAVIS INSISTS PARTY UNITE FOR BATTLE

(By United Press Leased Wire)
UNITED PRESS HEADQUARTERS, WALDORF HOTEL, NEW YORK, July 10.—Starting a vigorous movement to restore party harmony, John W. Davis, Democratic Presidential nominee, went before his national committee here today.

Addressing them in executive session, he let them understand that all differences must be buried immediately and that the party must be united for concerted action in the coming campaign.

The committee acclaimed him enthusiastically for his unprecedented action in making a direct appeal to them in their meeting which was called for the purpose of reorganization under the new leadership.

And after Davis had concluded, his running mate, Charles W. Bryan, who led the anti-Davis faction in the convention, pledged an unrestrained support of himself, his brother William J. Bryan and all their followers for party unity.

The committee followed the desire of Davis and did not select a new chairman as is the usual custom.

FORCING PRICES TO DROP CHIEF AIM OF NEBRASKA LEADER

Bryan Wins Political Success By War on Gas, Coal, Ice and Gasoline Barons; Made Start As Cigar Store Owner

LINCOLN, Neb., July 10.—From a little side street cigar store to the threshold of the Vice-President—spans the rise of Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska.

Between those points has been a struggle against "trust prices" culminating in his war on coal, gravel and gasoline prices while governor of the state of Nebraska.

As mayor of Lincoln and governor of Nebraska he has forced lower prices in coal, gas, ice, gravel and gasoline—always with the club of municipal or state sale held high over the head of the victim.

Charles W. Bryan was born at Salem, Ill., February 10, 1867. He attended the University of Illinois. While still in his early twenties he journeyed into the West to Nebraska to join his brother, William Jennings Bryan.

Practically his first venture into business made him proprietor of a side street cigar store in Omaha. Soon after he became a traveling salesman for a food extract company in Lincoln.

Brother's Secretary.

Then came the year of his brother's first run for the presidency in 1896. Charles Bryan became his brother's private secretary.

Again in the 1900 presidential campaign of William J. Bryan, his younger brother was private secretary. But more than that Charles had risen to the post of confidential adviser and political strategist.

Once again defeat turned back the Bryans and this time resulted in the inception in 1901 of "The Commoner," edited by W. J. Bryan and managed by Charles W. Bryan. For seven years the Bryan organ occupied the attention of both brothers. Then, for the third time, the Commoner entered the presidential lists.

Knows 'Em All.

Three In Protest Over Claim Davis Unanimous Choice

NEW YORK, July 10.—In the roar and excitement that followed Chairman Walsh's acclamation of John W. Davis' nomination came the unheard protests of Mrs. Alexander Thomson, Thomas C. Burke and James C. Stuart in the Oregon delegation that the nomination of Davis was not unanimous and that we cast our last as well as our first ballot for William Gibbs McAdoo.

They felt their protest was ignored rather than drowned out in the ensuing noise, and a written protest was sent to Chairman Walsh.

"We request the secretary of this convention," it read, "to order us on this, the last ballot, for William Gibbs McAdoo. We protest any statement that J. W. Davis' nomination is unanimous."

Santa Ana Friend of Bourbon Nominee Lived In Same Town

John W. Davis of West Virginia, Democratic nominee for President of the United States, had a staunch booster in Santa Ana today.

He was J. Stanley Gillogly, 1410 West Fourth street, who counts the former ambassador among his friends of long standing.

Gillogly, a clothing store salesman, hails from Clarksburg, W. Va., the home town of Davis. For a number of years he lived but a block from the Bourbon candidate.

"Yes, I knew Davis well," Gillogly asserted, "and, believe me, he stands high in the old home town."

"I remember I was talking to him one time about the peculiar laws in the nation that allowed foreigners to vote after they had been in the country only five years, when a man born and raised here had to wait until he was 21 years old, before he could vote," Davis laughed and said, "Well, some day we might fix that up."

Gillogly also remembers a time, he said, when Davis gave the former's little sister a rose and told her to keep it as a remembrance. The sister, now grown, has the rose in a frame, he stated.

"Davis' hobby is riding horses," Gillogly added. "He would rather ride a horse than eat. I have known him to ride through the mountains many times, merely for the pleasure he received from it."

Gillogly said he also knew the Bassel family, into which Davis married.

"Yes, I'm a Democrat," Gillogly admitted, "and there wouldn't be any question as for whom I will vote for President."

NOMINATION MADE ON FIRST BALLOT

Delegates Make Quick Exit
From City As Long
Struggle Ends

(By United Press Leased Wire)
UNITED PRESS HEADQUARTERS, WALDORF HOTEL, July 10.—John W. Davis of West Virginia for President, and Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, for Vice-President.

That Democratic ticket, coupling the conservative East with the progressive West, was brought out of the most bitterly contested convention in political history at 2:25 a. m. today.

The nomination of the Nebraska governor was forced by a coterie of Democratic leaders, after he had been selected, personally, by Davis as his running mate. It came on the first ballot, furnishing a curious anti-climax to the fierce battle over the Presidential nomination, which ended in a compromise on the 103rd ballot late yesterday afternoon.

Selection of Bryan was made only after the Democrats had been twice turned down by prospective candidates for the vice-presidency. Senator Walsh of Montana, Davis' first choice, in a letter to the convention, formally refused the offer, stating he could best serve his party by running for re-election in the senate. The name of Edwin T. Meredith of Iowa was withdrawn after he had refused to run with Davis on the ground that he was too conservative to appeal to the agricultural West.

Davis Picks Bryan
Davis was unwilling to accept any of the 9 candidates who had been nominated formally. A recess of one hour was called at midnight while Davis went into conference with leaders at the historic Democratic rendezvous, the Manhattan club across the street from Madison Square Garden.

When Bryan was finally hit upon, Chairman Cordell Hull, Tom Taggart, Senator Pat Harrison and other leaders, bare headed, rushed back to the garden to get Bryan's acceptance. He met them at the door and speedily gave his consent.

It was necessary to place him in nomination and Harry B. Feherty was rounded up to name him. Bryan himself told his sponsor to make his speech "short and snappy." Feherty complied and the balloting began.

Delegates Hurry Away
Worn out by two weeks of bickering and strife and three hours of oratory during the fore part of the evening, hundreds of the delegates hurried for home. The galleries were all but deserted. Less than 500 spectators remained of the vast crowd that jammed the galleries to give Governor Al Smith of New York, their hero, a thunderous ovation, and Davis, who appeared by invitation, a cordial welcome. Most of the delegates' seats were filled by "ringers."

Chairman Walsh had turned the gavel over to Representative Barkley of Kentucky who had great difficulty in controlling the crowd after the balloting got under way. But the din that marked the earlier sessions was gone. Voices rang out clear and sharp in the huge hall.

Humorists made the balloting more difficult. They gave names and women whose names were unfamiliar to the tally clerks.

Bryan got away slowly until the word was passed that he was Davis' choice.

Brennan Takes Lead
After casting half of the Illinois vote for Mayor Hyman of New York, as a compliment, George E. Brennan, of Illinois led the switching which ended in Bryan amassing a necessary two thirds, more than the total of 739 votes, more than the necessary two thirds. He was followed by Franklin D. Roosevelt, who cast New York's ninety votes solidly for Bryan. Then Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City whipped his delegation into the line and the landslide was on.

George L. Berry of Tennessee, the Soldier-Labor candidate, was off to a running start. He finished with 294 when the switching ended. But the Soldier-Labor crowd,

July 4 Traffic
Offenders Pay
$960 as Fines

Traffic law violators paid rather dearly for their offenses committed July 4 and last Sunday.
It was disclosed today by the records in Justice J. B. Cox's court, where fines totaling $960 were collected during yesterday's session of traffic court.

So great has become the pressure of work falling in the local justice court that Justice Cox has engaged the services of a clerk, J. Wilde, who is assisting him in keeping the records of the court.

WOULD FORECLOSE LIEN
Foreclosure of a mechanic's lien on a dwelling owned by George V. Murrell was asked today in a superior court action
filed here by the Santa Ana Lumber company. The sum involved a claim of $374.54 for lumber.
Attorney C. C. Downing represents the plaintiff.

SUE FOR FORECLOSURE
Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Rankin were plaintiffs in a suit on file in the superior court here today against Mr. and Mrs. J.
M. Ward, involving an attempt to foreclose a $2500 mortgage on property of the Wards at Garden Grove.

IN NEW LOCATION
The Mode Millinery store, of which Mrs. B. C. Roberts is the proprietor, is now settled in the beautiful new quarters on Sycamore street near Fifth. One of the attractive features of the new place is the large display window. The room has a fine lighting system and all arrangements are ideal for millinery display.

News Briefs

L. O. Howard, chief of the Bureau of Entomology, Washington, D. C., arrived here today to inspect the work of the county horticultural commissioner. He was escorted to Anaheim this afternoon where an inspection of the county's insectary was made. Howard is inspecting work on the coast following a meeting of entomologists held at Stanford university recently.

Saturday and Sunday will be
"visitors' day" at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. boys' camp, "Oscocola," where more than forty young boys are spending two weeks, "close to nature." Announcement was made today that parents and friends of the boys would be supplied with meals at the camp throughout the two days, and that those who cared to spend the night would be welcomed provided they brought their own blankets.

Saturday is the day planned for the annual picnic reunion of six states in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, Orange county parkers formerly residing in Maryland, Virginia, Delaware, North and South Carolina and Georgia were being reminded today.

All former residents of Maine are being invited to attend a picnic reunion at Lincoln park, Los Angeles, Saturday, according to word received here today from the Pine Tree State association, which is sponsoring the event.

Declaring that certain state institutions have been "crippled and impaired" by the economy program of Governor Friend W.
Richmond, Horace McPhee, formerly a Santa Ana newspaper publisher, has resigned as a director of the state hospital at Patton, San Bernardino county.
McPhee states that directors of the state institutions are held responsible for their safe conduct, yet under the program
now existing their hands are tied.
McPhee, while living in Santa Ana, was appointed a director of the hospital. The appointment was made by Governor Pardee.

"The Greatest Gambler in the World" was the theme of an address delivered to approximately 500 farmers and their families at the Orange county park last night by V. D. Johnson, secretary of the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce. Johnson stated the farmer could well be termed as the greatest gambler because of the chances he is forced to take each year with weather conditions and with pests that hinder the growth of crops. The occasion of the meeting was a joint picnic of farmers and their families of the Villa Park, El Modena and West
Orange farm centers.

Until late today no south-bound traffic on Main street was permitted to cross Fourth street because of the laying of a sewer line at this intersection. As a result, traffic policemen were unusually busy all day compelling autoists, who failed to observe the detour signals, to drive west on Fourth street instead of cutting across the eastern corner of the intersection. Some motorists succeeded in "sneaking" past the officer stationed nearby.

Captain Nelson M. Holderman, hero of the Lost Battalion, will address members of Santa Ana post No. 131, American Legion, when the semi-monthly meeting of the World War veterans is held at the Legion's club rooms on North Birch street tonight. The program is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock. The Misses Velma Watkins and Lucille Williams of Santa Ana will appear in songs and dances. Delegates to the Leg-ion's state convention at Santa Cruz will be elected.

J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, and president of the Commercial Secretaries' association, will preside over a meeting of the latter organization to be held at Hollywood Monday. Metzgar will be accompanied from here by Mrs. Metzgar and their daughter.

CONCERT DRAMA
TICKET SALE
MARK 2000

The sale of 2000 season tickets at $5 each for a series of approximately ten entertainments will be necessary to insure success of programs to be given this winter
by the Orange County Choral union, Santa Ana Municipal band, Community Players and the Santa Ana Symphony orchestra, according to decision made last night by the committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to work out a program by which tickets for all the organization could be sold in one campaign.

Robert Shafer, said he thought he would be in a position to make a detailed report to the directors of the Chamber at their meeting next Wednesday at 4 p. m.

The meeting last night was held at Ketter's cafe at 6:30 o'clock, with Shafer, Fred Rafferty, R. L.
Brown and Alex Brownridge, of the committee present, in addition to the following representatives of organizations: D. Eymann Huff, choral union; D. C. Cianfoni and Dr. Merrill Hollingsworth, band and orchestra, and Burr Shafer, M.
B. Wellington, Ernest Crosier Phillips and George Gerwing, Community Players.

As tentatively arranged each of the organizations will give programs in the series of ten entertainments. The campaign for the sale of tickets, it was suggested, should be held early in the fall, possibly in the latter part of September. It was decided that season tickets should be transferable.

"We should have more than $10-000 through the sale of tickets, but we possibly could get by with this amount of money," Shafer said.

HOLDS MATE STINGY
IN DIVORCE CHARGE

Asserting that her husband, though earning as much as $15 a day as a plasterer, had given her only $50 for clothing during the nine years of their marriage, Mrs.
Zula M. Smith sought divorce from Alonzo B. Smith, in a complaint on file today in the superior court through Attorney Morris Cain, of this city.

As a result of her husband's alleged shyness with respect to the department stores, his wife was forced to do her shopping from the second hand stock of the Salvation Army, she declared.

Her husband's money went, instead, over the gaming tables at Tia Juana, his wife alleged. She charged desertion, non-support and cruelty as grounds for her claim.

Once, while they were living in Oklahoma City, she stated, she was called to her father's home for five weeks to care for him after he had suffered a stroke of paralysis. Meanwhile, she alleged, Smith advertised for a housekeeper, who was installed in the home and lived there, Mrs.
Smith charged, until the real wife's return. Afterward, Smith kept up a correspondence with the housekeeper, she said.

The Smiths married in Kansas City June 2, 1915. Smith was charged with deserting his wife
April 10 this year.

Loser of Fistic
Match Turns to Legal Measures

Carl Swanson, foreman for the Birch Oil company, at Brea, was today taking further steps against William Scott, a discharged employee of the company, who late yesterday paid a $25 fine on a battery charge sworn to by Swanson.

With his eyes blacked and his face giving other evidence of the severe beating he claimed to have received at the hands of Scott, Swanson consulted local authorities today, saying that Scott had made threats against him. He was deported for La Habra. It was said, expecting to appear before Justice
H. E. Hart there and have Scott placed under bond to keep the peace.

Swanson told the authorities that he had discharged Scott, who was employed as a carpenter, and that a quarrel ensued, after which Swanson was badly beaten.

Appeared before Justice J. B.
Cox here late yesterday to pay his fine, Scott told the court that Swanson had called him a liar.

WIFE IN COURT SOBS TALE OF 'KIDNAPING'

A frail little woman took the witness stand today in the court of Justice G. W. Ingle at Orange and told of an asserted kidnapping by her husband, a wild ride to the Orange county hospital clad only in her nightgown and her incarceration in a barred cell in the insane ward without a doctor's certificate of insanity or any official paper showing that she had been declared insane.

The woman was Mrs. Lorraine Grasse, 30 years old. In court were her husband, Harry Grasse, 38 years old, and his brother, Eugene Grasse, both of them charged with battery on the person of Mrs. Grasse in connection with the asserted kidnapping. The case was expected to go to the jury late this afternoon.

On the objection of Attorney O. A. Jacobs, counsel for the defendant, Judge L. F. Coburn of Orange withdrew from the prosecution as the attorney for Mrs. Grasse and a "hurry call" was sent for Deputy District Attorney Kenneth Burns, who rushed to Orange to take over the prosecution after Judge Ingle had ruled that Coburn could not press the prosecution on the part of the people.

Woman Sobs

Most of the morning was given over to the testimony of Mrs. Grasse. Her tale was frequently punctuated with sobbing and she struggled to control herself. Her husband and his brother showed no emotion during the taking of her testimony.

"About noon Thursday, June 19, Mr. Grasse came to my bedroom where I lay in bed clad only in a nightdress, stated that he had stayed home so that he could take care of me," she testified. "After the cruel way in which he had been treating me I could not understand his solicitous attitude and became suspicious, even though he had said only the night before:

"Lorraine, it is, pitiful. In five years you will be a raving maniac."

"I could not conceive of his doing the outrageous thing that followed. I thought that probably he had arranged to get me a place to board as they were very much afraid of the public."

Tells Alleged Abducting
"Mr. Grasse insisted that I go to see Dr. Royer. I said for him to come and call on me as I was not able to make the trip. Mr. Grasse drove away and returned in about fifteen minutes. He said that Dr. Royer could not sail and said that he was going to take me there if he had to carry me."

"I refused to go and he took

"KIDNAP" CASE WIFE AVERS HUSBAND FORCED HER INTO INSANE WARD, TOOK GIRL

Mrs. Lorraine Grasse, 29, and her 3-year-old daughter, Mary Alice, both of Orange. The young mother today testified in Judge G. W. Ingle's court that her husband and his brother choked her and took her by force to the insane ward of the county hospital where she was confined eight days, before she declared she was "rescued" by her attorney. The little girl, she said, was hidden from her by her husband who took the child first to Redlands, she asserted, and then to Los Angeles.

a blanket and forced me out of bed and put the blanket around me. I tried to fight him off and began to cry and scream for help. He carried me, clad only in my night clothing, to the car and put me in the back seat.

"Eugene Grasse, his brother, was seated at the wheel ready to start. I screamed for help. Baby came along and began to cry and said:

"Please, daddy, don't do that to my mama."

"Eugene drove furiously. Baby would turn around and scream and throw her little arms into the air. Harry choked and gagged me with the blanket until the blood ran from my lips and mouth. I have the blanket here to show the blood stains."

Blanket Exhibited
The blanket, showing the stains was introduced in evidence.

Mrs. Grasse continued:
"I fought and screamed for help and kicked my bare limbs up in the air. I was almost smothered. I would watch when my head was uncovered for cars to pass and scream for help. Eugene turned around and held my legs. Mr. Grasse at different times would tell him to hold me."

"At the hospital the nurse put me in a cell and locked the door. My companions were insane."

Mrs. Grasse added privately that the patients would quarrel during the night and had to be separated.

"I was served with a tinplate, cup and so on," she said. "They have put a stigma on my name for life. People are curious to see me. They have branded me."

Defies Age by Using Ordinary Buttermilk to Beautify Complexion

This Pretty Girl Tells Druggist Not to Take Anyone's Money Unless This Delightful New Vanishing Cream Shows a Decided Improvement.

Buttermilk Cream creates beauty almost like magic. The most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the dull, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough hands or arms snowy white, yet, there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, brown spots, or lines around the mouth, yellow fingers, or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by wind or sun, you will find that any or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream.

Golden Flowers Adorn Ramsey Home For Celebration

Fifty golden years of wedded life, with twenty-two of them spent in Orange county, offered incentive for a happy affair yesterday when relatives and friends joined the children of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Ramsey in celebrating the golden wedding of the well-known pair at their lovely home on Eighth street.

The entire day was given over to joyful recognition of the event for in the forenoon hours the three daughters of the home with their families arrived to join in the pleasure and to gather around the family board at the noon hour when a wedding feast was served with the bride and groom of fifty years ago occupying the seats of honor.

The home was brilliant with golden blossoms arranged artistically by Mrs. Ray Millman, close family friend. In the afternoon Mrs. and Mrs. Ramsey received their guests who came by scores to offer their congratulations coupled with the wish that they might help celebrate many more anniversaries. Mrs. Ramsey was as charming in her beaded gown of soft tan georgette crepe as she was fifty years ago when as Miss Rosalind Moss, a pretty maiden of the Old South, she spoke her wedding vows in "Sunny Tennessee." Her sole ornament was a quaint old brooch of goldstone which had been worn by her young mother who died in the babyhood of her little daughter, yesterday's golden bride.

Arriving guests were greeted by the honorees while assisting in various hostess duties were friends including Mrs. Lea Warren, Mrs. Hogue, Mrs. R. R. Smith, Mrs. Elise, and many others. The Rev. Mr. McPeak, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of which the Ramseys have been members during their twenty-two years in the county, was quite happy in his impromptu remarks, while the informal program offered added pleasures in the singing of L. A. Garro-way who chose "I Love You California" as one number and in appropriate readings by Mrs. Sterrett, a close friend of pre-California days.

Verses written in honor of the occasion by Justin Patterson of Pomona, a cousin of Mrs. Ramsey, were read aloud to the interest of the guests. Fruit punch, cool and sparkling, served with delicious home made cake and salted nuts offered refreshment to the guests of whom there were over two hundred during afternoon and evening hours.

The Pro Bono class of the United Presbyterian church, took delight in coming in a body to add their congratulations and surprise the hosts. They bore with them a set of exquisite china as a fitting gift while the Bible class proffered a set of silver spoons and various pieces in flat ware in the same pattern. Other gifts showered on the hosts included a handsome amethyst brooch to Mrs. Ramsey and a gold chain with knife and belt fastener to Mr. Ramsey from the Barr Lumber company. Prex from the McFadden company and many other equally appreciated articles.

It was a matter for regret that two sons in Oakland, Herbert Ramsey and James Ramsey and his family, were unable to be present. Their messages of love reached the home however to be shared with the other children present. Mrs. Mary Steffens, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Washburn and son George of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Zink and little daughter Jean of San Diego and Calbert Ramsey of the home together with Mrs. Ramsey's sister, Mrs. G. L. Strong of Huntsville, Alabama.

Harmony Is Supreme At Musicales Given By the Bishops

California hospitality to eastern and northern visitors was evinced delightfully last night when Mr. and Mrs. U. Holmes Bishop (Marie G. Bishop) entertained in honor of their house guests, Miss Jessie Hawley of Brattleboro, Vt., and Miss June Hartman of Seattle.

The beautiful home on Fairhaven avenue of the senior Bishops was chosen for the affair, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Bishop assisting Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Bishop in greeting the guests. It was with keen interest that all listened to an account by Mr. Holmes Bishop, of the care that went to the selection of the woodwork of his father's home, all of native eucalyptus, planted on the ranch in 1876 and cut and cured for the purpose. The especially fine wood was remarkably beautiful and needed nothing more than the polish given by the clear varnish to bring out its charm. The sentiment embodied in such a gradual growth of a home was not lost on the guests who felt a thrill of sympathetic understanding at the menace of fire which put in a temporary danger only last Monday, but which was discovered ere much actual damage was done.

As the pleasant evening progressed, many of the guests present were asked to contribute to a musical program for the entertainment of the two very charming house-guests, Miss Hawley and Miss Hartman.

Numbered cards selected at random designated the place on the program for each artist. Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh opening the delightful event with her songs, two Brahms numbers, "The Sapphic Ode" and "That Night in May." They were sung with the charm and artistry that are hers by nature and training and were a most happy introduction to the numbers to follow.

These included two violin selections by one of the city's most talented musicians, an artist to her finger tips, Ollina Enlow Matthews. A Beethoven "Tondino" was followed by a selection from "The Violin Maker of Cremona" which Mrs. Matthews prefaced with a brief outline of Hubay's opera so that her listeners were ready to hear the loving interest with which the old violin maker tuned his wonderful instrument and developed the theme from sounding the G.

Verde written in honor of the occasion by Justin Patterson of Pomona, a cousin of Mrs. Ramsey, were read aloud to the interest of the guests. Fruit punch, cool and sparkling, served with delicious home made cake and salted nuts offered refreshment to the guests of whom there were over two hundred during afternoon and evening hours.

The Pro Bono class of the United Presbyterian church, took delight in coming in a body to add their congratulations and surprise the hosts. They bore with them a set of exquisite china as a fitting gift while the Bible class proffered a set of silver spoons and various pieces in flat ware in the same pattern. Other gifts showered on the hosts included a handsome amethyst brooch to Mrs. Ramsey and a gold chain with knife and belt fastener to Mr. Ramsey from the Barr Lumber company. Prex from the McFadden company and many other equally appreciated articles.

It was a matter for regret that two sons in Oakland, Herbert Ramsey and James Ramsey and his family, were unable to be present. Their messages of love reached the home however to be shared with the other children present. Mrs. Mary Steffens, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Washburn and son George of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Zink and little daughter Jean of San Diego and Calbert Ramsey of the home together with Mrs. Ramsey's sister, Mrs. G. L. Strong of Huntsville, Alabama.

With music again occupying the center of the stage, Maurice Phillips—Santa Ana's one and only Maurice—sang with a world of feeling, Tosti's "My Dreams." This he followed by one totally at variance in theme but sung with true Phillipsian charm and spirit, "Jolly Old Monk Am I."

It was with much interest that the guests awaited the opening notes of the piano selection contributed by Miss Hartman, one of the honor guests. Her choice was "Sous Bois" by Staub and with the first note came the realization that a true artist was at the piano. Miss Hartman's charm of personality extended to her playing whose brilliancy and spirit coupled with an excellent technique leads Santa Anans to hope that her determination to locate in Southern California may lead her to choose this city. As an encore number she gave the colorful "Children at Play" by Moussorgsky. Monroe Sharpless' exquisite tenor drew thrills of sympathy from the guests in response to the tragic poignancy of "Vale" a song of farewell by Russell. The lovely "Down in the Forest" by Ronald was his second number. Miss Armstrong was at the piano. The crystal clearness and vibrant qualities in the voice of Miss Louise Montgomery were never more pronounced than in her singing of Rogers' "Wind Song" with its "cello notes" unless it was in the brilliant "My Lover Comes on a Ski" with its triumphant refrain. Mrs. Peek played her accompaniments.

Offering variety to the program was Caesare D. Cianfoni who gave two of his remarkable trombone solos, "Oh Robert Robert" and the more familiar but equally lovely rhythms of Jockey's "Berceuse."

Both were played with the artistry and depth of feeling that has made Mr. Cianfoni one of the city's foremost artists in the short time he has been here. Miss Armstrong accompanied him. Mr. and Mrs. Bishop's young daughter, Miss Velma played a little Grieg waltz, proving by her lovely touch that she is a true child of her talented parents who consented to sing a duet with Miss Hartman at the piano. They chose "Abschied der Vogel" by Hildach, singing however in English. So charmed were their hearers that more was demanded, so "Go Pretty

Birthday Surprise Is Also House-Warming In New Home

Despite their surprise, Mr. and Mrs. Sargent proved delightful hosts and made their guests most welcome in the new home where were entertained Miss Lucille Lowell, Clayton Lowell, Alfred Sargent, Miss Edith Fureson, Mr. and Mrs. John Lopez, Miss Nellie Mae Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Daley, Arthur Daley, Levitt Daley, Edward Daley, Russell Daley, Miss Esther Bailey, Miss Florence McQueen, Jimmie Hays, Mario Marvult, Mr. and Mrs. Lackey, Robert Lackey, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Barrios.

Fraternal Brotherhood

Tonight at the Modern Woodman hall, an interesting session of the Fraternal Brotherhood lodge is planned for the purpose of installation of recently elected officers. Lodge is scheduled to open at 8:30 o'clock.

Rose" was given and later Mrs. Bishop consented to sing to Miss Hawley's sympathetic accompaniment, "My Lullaby."

It was a question as to which was more enjoyable, the duo or solo work of the hosts. Following his mother's song, young Noble announced with satisfaction "Now we're going to have ice cream" and followed with liveliest interest his brother and sister's serving of refreshing ices, vafers and a fruit punch.

Among those asked to greet Miss Hawley at Miss Hartman and Mr. and Mrs. Bishops were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Sammis, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Phillips, Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Cianfoni, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Peek, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sharpless, Mrs. Victor Montgomery, Mrs. Eleanor Elliott, Miss Louise Montgomery, Miss Ruth Armstrong, Miss Claire Sharpless, Messrs. ## MY DAUGHTER WOULD CRY AT EVERYTHING

Nervous and Irritable. By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Became Entirely Normal

Clinton, Wisconsin.—"My daughter was in a very run-down condition, and was irritable, and would cry at everything. I gave her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she became entirely normal. I wish that every mother with growing girls would try it for these troubles girls often have. I had taken it myself before my girl was born, and she was one of the most babies any one could wish to have. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to women and girls and cannot praise it too highly." —Mrs. I. A. Holford, Box 48, Clinton, Wisconsin.

Mother can depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve their daughters of those troubles they so often have. They know from experience the value of the Vegetable Compound in the treatment of these complaints and many, like Mrs. Holford, give it to their daughters.

GOV. BRYAN IS RUNNING MATE FOR DAVIS

aided by a rowdy bunch that the police finally ejected from the hall, kept up a constant cry for Berry. Although Colonel Alvin M. Owsley, former commander of the American Legion, was withdrawn by Texas, he finished with sixteen votes. Clark's son in face.

Bennet Clark, son of the late Speaker Champ Clark, of Missouri, had a total of forty-one votes and Mrs. Leroy Springs of South Carolina eighteen. Others who stuck to the end were Governor Glynn, Rhode Island, fifteen; Governor Silzer, New Jersey eight; former Ambassador Gerard ten; Mayor Hyman six; Newton D. Baker seven; Senator Pittman, Nevada, sixteen; Jonathan M. Davis, Kansas, five. The rest of the votes were scattered.

Several times before the necessary two thirds was reached motions were made to nominate Bryan by acclamation. These suggestions were greeted by boos and hisses from the Berry supporters. The crowd was restless and continually called to Barkley to announce when Bryan had enough votes. Most of the delegates put on their hats and moved toward the exits.

During the switching that held the hall in bedlam for half an hour, William Jennings Bryan, sitting as a delegate from Florida, voted for his brother's nomination.

Bryan's vote was greeted by an outburst of applause, followed by boos, hisses and cat calls. The crowd made a rush for the doors before the full list of names could be read or the motion to adjourn the convention put.

Barkley announced that permanent Chairman Walsh was to make the formal notification speech to Davis and temporary Chairman Pat Harrison would notify Ryan.

The band struck "Home, Sweet Home" and the crowd trickled out into the night. The convention was ended.

DAVIS PLANS EXTENSIVE WESTERN SPEAKING TOUR

NEW YORK, July 10.—John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for the presidency, today said he would "sooner or later" make an extensive speaking tour westward in the campaign.

In his first conference with newspaper men Davis declined to discuss politics or issues, in observance of the death of Calvin Coolidge Jr., who is being buried.

Davis said he has no definite plans for the immediate future but that he intends to leave for a short rest at his Long Island home Saturday. Later he will go to his home in West Virginia, before opening his campaign.

TELLS KIWANIS GLASS PLANT TO HIRE 264

The Standard American Glass company at its plant here will employ 264 skilled workmen and a number of unskilled men, according to statements made to the Santa Ana Kiwanis club, at its meeting at St. Ann's Inn yesterday by Robert E. Brown, local broker.

The value of the new industry to the city in the way of offering employment, thus was shown by Brown, who stated that when the factory is completed the equivalent of man power to cultivate 5000 acres would be employed on a piece of property where in the past one man has been employed about half the time.

"Virtually all the skilled help will have to be imported," Brown said, in emphasizing the fact that importation of help would mean an increase in population here of approximately 1200 persons.

"Wages at the plant likely will average more than $10 a day," continued Brown. "The workmen are good spenders. The plant here will be the largest glass factory west of the Mississippi. The men to be employed will be of a better type than rules in other plants, where glass is manufactured by hand. The work here will be done largely by machinery, making it possible to employ only the better class of workmen."

Following adjournment of the meeting fifty members of the club drove to the site of the new plant, where they were introduced to A. F. Dixon, president of the Dixon company of Los Angeles, and one of the leading spirits in the enterprise here.

Plans of the company were outlined briefly by Brown. He also explained the purposes of each of the seven buildings now under construction.

The club meeting yesterday was devoted exclusively to a review by President R. R. Miller of the purposes of various standing committees as presented at the recent convention at Denver of Kiwanis International.

BRITISH FLEET NEAR END OF S. F. VISIT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Today was the last day officers and men of the special service squadron of the British grand fleet will have ashore before the departure of the fleet homeward, and they were making the most of it.

More luncheons, a reception or two, sightseeing parties and tonight a great dance at the civic auditorium in Oakland were on the program.

Various civic organizations, including the chamber of commerce, were hosts to officers of the squadron at luncheon. During the afternoon while petty officers and men saw the sights of Berkeley and Oakland, high ranking officers of the squadron and leaders in British society here were guests at a reception on board the battleship California.

Tonight's feature for British and United States naval and army officers, and dignitaries of California civil and official society will be a formal dinner given by Vice Admiral Sir Frederick Field aboard H. M. S. Hood, flagship of the British squadron.

During the early hours of tomorrow, the fleet will weigh anchor, the Hood and Repulse setting a course for the Panama Canal, the light cruiser squadron heading "around the horn."

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—Leonard P. Kennedy, 35, alias "Blackie Kelley" Brawley, was captured by detectives today after a two week's chase in which they covered half the territory of the country.

Kennedy was wanted in connection with the holdup of the Carlton theater several weeks ago. Roy Strague and John L. Hogan were the other members of the gang which held up the theater. Strague was killed when he attempted to make his escape.

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—Woodson Davidson 12-year-old colored lad will come up in juvenile court next week on a charge of breaking up a sandlot baseball game, and nearly breaking open the head of Morris Koukol, aged 7, a baserunner on the opposing team.

Woodson was catching, according to juvenile spectators, when Morris came sliding in home in true big league fashion.

"I got the ball and put him out," the young catcher declared. "He said I didn't, so I jes' tapped him over the head a bit with a bat to prove I did."

Adversity for the third time descended on the house of Bryan and William Jennings was defeated for the presidency. In 1915 Charles Bryan was elected mayor of Lincoln. His campaign was waged against high ice, coal and gas prices. Soon after election he threatened to open a municipal gas plant—gas prices dropped. Then he agitated municipal ice production—ice prices dropped, and so followed coal.

His popularity became state-wide and swept him into the governor's office in 1922.

Industrial Fund Campaign Head Says City Should Advertise Its Sites

S. A. UNEQUALED, VIEW

Immediate Control of Low Cost Lands Would Beat Future Competition

Santa Anans are doing the world a grave injustice by not advertising the fact that this district is more desirable for manufacturing than any part of Southern California, according to Stanley Clem, who is heading a committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the campaign conducted by the Senior Chamber of Commerce to raise funds for acquiring industrial sites.

"It is generally agreed that industrial opportunities are greater in Southern California than in any other part of the nation," Clem stated, "but the big manufacturers of the nation have not realized that the vicinity of Santa Ana has certain important advantages unequalled anywhere."

He continued: "Los Angeles claims the greatest industrial advantages of any city in the world. Yet we have exactly every one of these advantages plus a few of our own."

Cost Important Item. "First, the cost of industrial sites in Los Angeles and other ideal manufacturing cities of the South-west is one of the most important factors in determining the location of factories. And right here is where Santa Ana has the big advantage."

"We can provide the land for any deserving industry at a price many times lower than can be obtained in the larger cities. And we intend to capitalize on this tremendous advantage by securing immediate control of desirable locations in this vicinity so we will have sites to offer factories at prices that will beat all competition."

"Santa Ana is not asleep at the

Southland Pays Heavily In Income Tax

For the first quarter of 1924 the residents of the ten southern counties of California paid more income tax than the residents of any one entire state west of the Mississippi river, says Southern California Business, official magazine of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. This is the report sent out by the United States treasury department. Also it is shown that the district comprising the ten southern counties ran ahead of the forty-eight counties of the San Francisco district.

This shows the amazing growth of Southern California in the last few years. In 1920 the income tax paid by the residents of the San Francisco district was more than double that of the Los Angeles district. If the collections for the remainder of this year keep pace with those of the first quarter, the total for 1924 for the Los Angeles district will be more than $67,000,000. This would be nearly $20,000,000 more than the San Francisco district figures for last year.

$1000 Warehouse Construction to Begin At Once

Because of the increasing number of shipments of household goods to Santa Ana from families planning to take up their residence here, it has become necessary for the Richards Brothers Express company to begin erection immediately of a storage warehouse at the company's property, 11 West First street, it was announced today. The building will be constructed of wood and brick and will be sixteen feet wide and fifty feet long. The estimated cost was set at $1000.

TEXTILE PLANT NEW INDUSTRY FOR ORANGE

Company Capitalization Is $250,000; Bathrobes, Towels Manufactured

The Orange industrial district received a new impetus toward the two million dollar mark today with the announcement by the industrial committee of the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce that the West Coast Textile company, now located at Redlands, and having a capitalization of more than $250,000 will erect in Orange a new factory building costing approximately $30,000.

"Thistle Brand" bathrobes and high grade towels, manufactured by the factory are sold in the largest department stores throughout the nation. For the past eighteen months the factory has been operating in Redlands.

Climate, satisfactory labor conditions, and the fact that a small colony of textile industries already is located there enabled the industrial committee to persuade the West Coast Textile company to move to Orange, it was stated.

Climatic conditions in Redlands, which were said to have caused the cotton to become dry, thus lowering the grade of the output and causing waste, has been assigned as one reason for the move from Redlands.

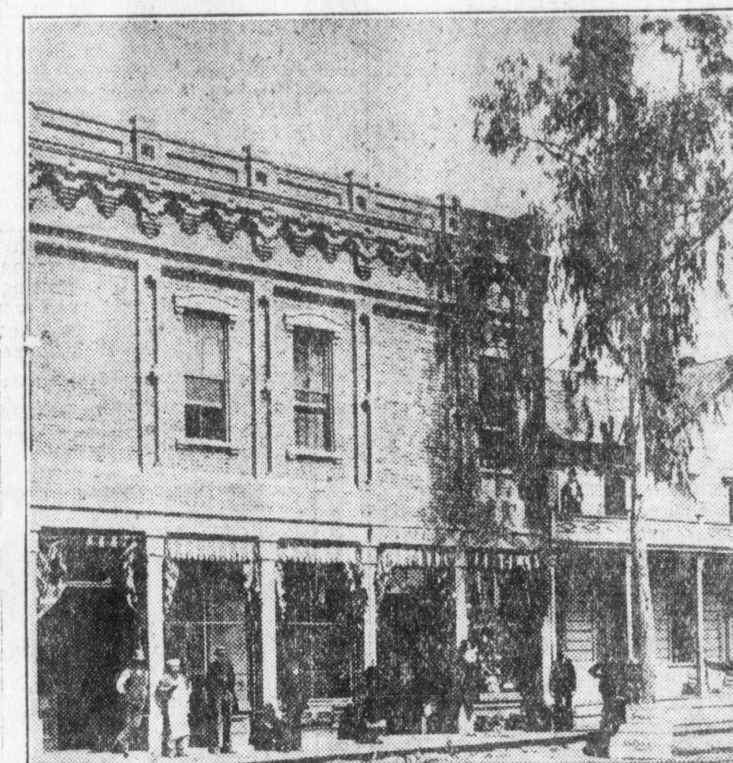

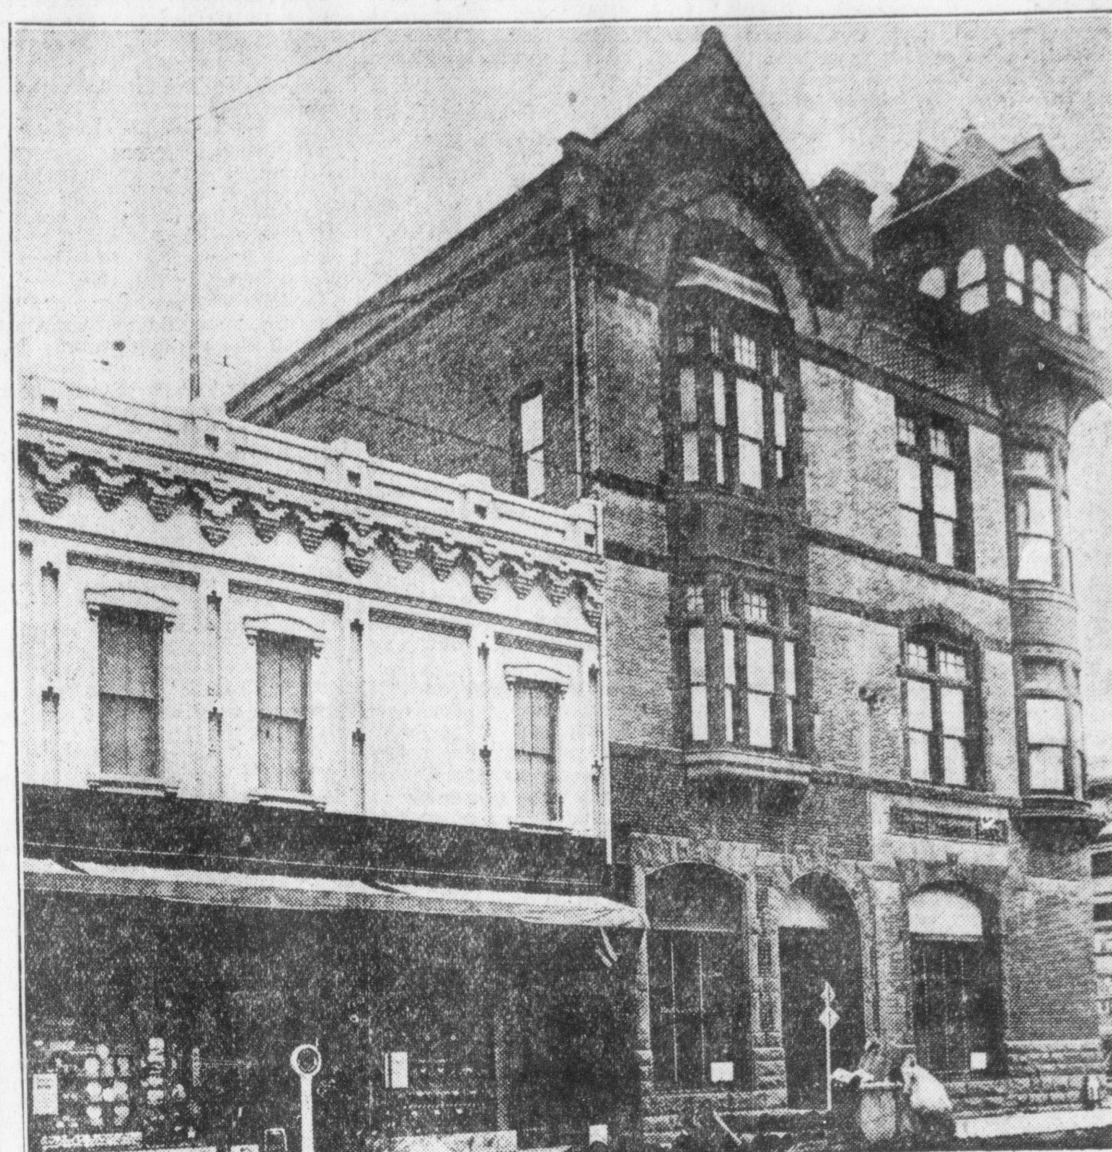

Mrs. A. M. Pope, president of the company, is expected to arrive in Orange today with other officials of the textile company, at which time they will decide on a location for the new factory, which will be a one story brick structure 200x110 feet in area. Construction will begin within thirty days on one of the two sites on which the company now holds options.

The factory, which will employ a hundred men and women, will be in operation by October 1, on a basis through which present production is expected to be trebled. New machinery will be needed with the increased production and four carloads of new looms now are en route from the East.

The company manufactures towels of 135 designs, and employs a trained designer who creates the exclusive patterns used for bathrobes, towels, face cloths and other products.

Mrs. Pope was organizer of the Modart Corset company at Saginaw, Michigan. Her career in the towel industry has been marked with success and her concern today reports assets amounting to $100,000.

HERE'S FOURTH AND MAIN — 1924 AND 1885

Here are pictures showing buildings of today on the northwest corner of Fourth and Main street and those on the same corner in 1885. The upper is the present First National bank building and the store adjoining. The lower shows the old Layman hotel which occupied the property on which the bank building now is located. As will be noted the building to left of the hotel is the same today as it was back in 1885, with the exception that the front has been changed and the windows have been modernized.

Present and old-time residents of Santa Ana will be interested in the pictures presented on the first page of today's development section. One presents the building standing today on the northwest corner of Fourth and Main streets and the other the old Layman hotel, which "decorated" this corner in 1885, when the picture was taken. The picture is the property of George Fael, of Santa Ana. The hotel building today is on the southeast corner of Minter and Fruit streets.

Mrs. J. W. Layman, proprietor of the hotel, is standing on the upper porch of the hotel. At the time the old picture was taken the east store room of the brick building was occupied by J. G. Phillips, who conducted a general merchandise store.

The store room on the west then was the home of one of Santa Ana's numerous saloons, J. G. Schirm, an early-day baker, is the man with white apron and white cap. To his left stands the late J. W. Freeman, justice of the peace and city recorder here for many years, and in his day one of the best known men of the city.

The two rooms today are occupied by a notion store carrying hundreds of different articles. According to an advertisement on the back of the old picture, the modern store had nothing on Phillips, for the advertisement announced that Phillips carried "art goods, baskets, carpets, dolls, ebony goods, frames, glassware, holiday goods, ink stands, jewelry, kid gloves, ladies' cloaks, music boxes, neckwear, optical goods, pocket knives, quilts, rubber goods, stationery, toys, underwear, violins, window shades, xanthian marbles, yankee notions, zephyr worsted" in addition to a general line of staple and fancy goods, boots and shoes and clothing and furnishings goods.

The value of Santa Ana's building permits in June exceeded the figures for the month of Bakersfield, San Bernardino, South Pasadena, Pomona, Whittier and many other Southern California cities, it was learned here today after the building activity of forty California cities was reported.

Only ten Southern California cities had larger totals than Santa Ana.

Santa Ana's total is more than three times the combined totals of Anaheim and Fullerton. Reports are not yet available from the cities in the northern part of the state, or from cities in other states for last month's building permits.

The totals for June reported up to the present time are as follows:

$60,000 NEEDED TO GIVE CITY OWN CURRENT

A bond issue of $60,000 to $75,000 would provide Santa Ana with equipment for generating electricity and a distributing system sufficient to light thoroughly all sections of the city, according to a declaration made here today by Asa Hoffman, chairman of the committee appointed recently by the Santa Ana Board of Realtors to investigate the costs of such a system. Other members on the committee are W. B. Martin and J. E. Lively.

"The committee will report the result of its investigations to the board at its meeting at Ketter's cafe tomorrow noon," Hoffman said.

"Investigations, so far made," the chairman said, "convince the committee that Santa Ana can develop energy at a figure less than it is paying for street lights today."

In the opinion of Hoffman and other members of the committee a generator installed at the city water power plant on West First street could be operated at very slight additional cost over what operation is costing at the present time.

"The present shortage of electrical energy has been a demonstration of what may be expected at any time," declared the realtor. "A similar situation may not occur again in years and again it may be repeated next year."

"Santa Ana is rapidly becoming a metropolis and it is time we were providing our own system for lighting our streets and public buildings owned by the city."

"It is our opinion that $60,000 or $75,000 would provide us with equipment that would not only meet the demands of the present for street lighting, but the demands for many years to come."

"Our city should never be permitted to become dark as it is under the present stress of circumstances. It is a serious situation. To some extent, it is unsafe for one to be on the streets late at night."

"By furnishing our own lights we could illuminate the school grounds of the city—and then a great deal of complaint heard about young people gathering at these points at all hours of the night would disappear."

"To have out school grounds well lighted would be a big advertisement for our city. We could have more ornamental lighting systems, and the cost of the juice would not be excessive. In fact, I believe we could increase our present ornamental lighting systems and extend our street lights with the total annual cost less than it is for the street lighting furnished the city at this time."

"By all means we should have ornamental lighting, or better lighting, on West Fifth street to the city limits; South Main street to the city limits; East First to the city line, and East Seventeenth street to the city limits."

"All these we could have, virtually without extra cost, if we had a municipal plant for generating current for city street lighting."

Victoria Farms Attracting Much Favorable Notice

The Charles O. Middleton Company, owner and developer of Victoria Farms, is pleased with the welcome reception given the announcement that this property could be purchased in five and ten acre parcels. Farmers from all parts of Santa Ana Basin, through Orange, Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties have expressed their approval. Reservations for small farms, dairy sites and other uses were made during the week following the announcement.

The abundant water supply of this property excited the admiration of all, for those flowing artesian wells greeted the eye throughout the many small farms. It was a source of pleasure to see and to know that sufficient water was available.

It was an added pleasure and gratification to know that in addition to the water, unlimited in its supply, that the land was fertile. Victoria Farms has a deep silt loam soil, free from hardpan and so gentle in its slope that to irrigate is an easy task.

Victoria Farms has been held under one control for nearly fifty years. A group of Englishmen bought it years ago. Development started then and has been continued down to date. "London ordered, and we bought the property," said Charles O. Middleton. "Until then it was impossible to buy. Now it is the good fortune of all to be able to secure a piece of this land."

Repair Shop for W. Fifth Planned

The paint room for the automobiles will be absolutely drip-proof, according to Huntington, who assures satisfaction to all who want expert work in refinishing cars or repairing bicycles.

"We are within a stone's throw of the greatest market on the coast and we are at a harbor which is available to two-thirds of the world's population at the lowest transportation cost in existence."

CITY PLANNING BOARD'S WORK IS OUTLINED

BY MRS. CLARA CUSHMAN
(Secretary Santa Ana Planning Commission)

The board of city trustees, in appointing a city planning commission last year, was simply following the policy of progressive cities throughout the United States and in Europe. Of the 43 cities in the United States with a population of 150,000 or over, forty-two have some form of city plan. Small towns and smaller cities are rapidly adopting this method of allowing for orderly, beautiful and economical city growth, instead of haphazard, wasteful methods of former years.

Of course the underlying theory of city planning is just what the words "city planning" indicate—a plan, pre-conceived by experts, for the building of a city of the future. Many cities have plans formulated which allow for improvements and growth covering a period of fifty years or longer. The practical work of the planning commission of Santa Ana at present, is not the formulation of any general plan or scheme, which would lie in the province of experienced specialists hired by the city, but rather to take up those matters which present themselves from week to week, matters which are vital to the city's welfare and which call either for preventive or remedial action by the city officials.

Has No Powers.
For it must be remembered the planning commission is only a recommendatory body, having no powers of its own. It recommends to the city trustees and in some cases to the board of county supervisors, after due reflection and study which the city officials themselves do not have the time to give. The city trustees or supervisors, as the case may be, act on such recommendations according to their best judgment. And the planning commission can go no further in making recommendations than the city officials desire or the city ordinances and state laws permit.

For instance, there is a state law under which the city council may pass zoning laws. But as yet Santa Ana has no zoning ordinances and, therefore, the planning commission of Santa Ana cannot take steps for future growth that Los Angeles city and county are taking. Zoning laws mean grief and vexation to a city, but it is difficult for a city to grow into anything beautiful and orderly, with adequate streets and highways, unless there is segregation of residence, business, and industrial structures.

Pass on Subdivisions.
So as Santa Ana has not yet reached the stage where it feels it desires or can afford an all-embracing, far-sighted expert, city plan, the fulfillment of which the entire population of the city shall work together to attain, or the stage where it desires some form of zoning restrictions, the present planning commission has found its chief duties to lie along the lines of examining and passing upon new subdivisions, the prevention of jogs in city streets, regulation of width of streets, prevention of blind streets, regulation of length of blocks, proper drainage of plats and streets, the establishment of parks and playgrounds, the establishment of a civic center in a suitable location, provision for main arteries of travel, and like matters that are all of vital importance, and which in the past the city trustees have been compelled to handle in addition to all their other numerous labors.

The commission now studies these matters to the best of its ability, then renders a report in the form of recommendations to the city trustees, who then act as they see fit. As yet, however, no recommendation of the commission has been rejected by the trustees.

Register "Extras" Please Crowd In Beach District

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 10.—Register "extras" conveyed the news of the nomination of John Davis of West Virginia as the presidential candidate of the Democratic party to Huntington Beach long before other papers arrived in town here yesterday.

Only a few moments after the announcement was heard here over the radio, Register newsmen were on the streets with their cry of "extra." Many people of the city were well pleased with the completeness with which the Register has been covering this city during the past few months, and the added evidence of extra papers in town here today.

The planning commission holds its regular meetings the first and third Fridays of each month in the office of the secretary, Mrs. Cushman, in the First National bank building, besides having held during the past year numerous special meetings at the request of subscribers.

Carefully Examine Plat.

The matter of subdivisions has taken up far the larger proportion of the commission's time during the past year, there being hardly an evening when it is not asked to pass on at least one subdivision. Before any subdivision located in the city is submitted to the city trustees it must be passed upon by the commission, also any subdivision within three miles of the city limits must be passed on by the commission before submission to the city council and the board of supervisors, as the law requires.

The commission examines the plat carefully to see that it conforms to the lay-out of neighboring plats and streets. Its policy is to recommend no street less than sixty feet wide, to permit no jogs in streets unless absolutely unavoidable on account of a past defect which cannot be remedied without unwise expenditure, and to prevent the formation of blind streets.

Also the commission has seen fit in several cases to recommend to the trustees the formation of improvement districts to insure the proper opening of streets and thus provide a lay-out in conformity with streets already existing.

The commission has in every case attempted to protect the property rights of the subdividers and to work in co-operation with them and with the rarest exceptions has found the subdividers of Santa Ana most willing to help make the individual subdivision fit in with its surroundings.

Approves County Board.
Personally, I hope that this fall will see the establishment of a county planning commission. This seems to me a most necessary step if we would have the whole county welded in one whole, instead of having a series of disconnected units working each for itself with no regard to the others. In this way such questions as highways, scenic and industrial, sewage and sanitation, water conservation, and numerous other problems could be worked out for the good of all. Then in turn the county could join with state planning movements, the state with the national planning movements, pertaining to water conservation, national highways, forests and similar problems. So in this way the most definite and far-reaching ends could be accomplished with the least trouble and expenditure.

VOTE CHAMBER SUIT TO GAIN TRACT SOLD

Return to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce of the thirty-acre tract on South Bristol street offered the city at one time as a public park, became a possibility today, through the institution of proceedings to recover the property because of failure of the purchasers to make the second payment due and to meet the interest charges.

The property was sold for $46,000 on October 19, 1923, to E. E. Boyle, Ora Boyle, James Dobbs and Elizabeth Dobbs. A payment of $10,000 cash was made at the time of closing the sale.

Banker Principal

Boyle, a wealthy banker of Wichita, Kan., was said to be the principal in the purchase of the property.

According to reports to the board, he "soured" on California after purchase of the tract here and returned to his Wichita home to remain.

The thirty-acre tract is a part of the grounds formerly composing the old race track, and originally was purchased by the Chamber with a view to its purchase by the county as a permanent site for the Orange County Fair association.

The directors of the association later turned down the proposition and the Chamber offered it to the city for a park site—and this likewise was not accepted.

To Circulate Petition

The sale was made to Boyle and his associates at what was said to be a good profit to the Chamber. The Chamber directors accepted responsibility for circulation here of an initiative petition for submitting to voters this fall the proposition of a division between the counties and cities of moneys received from the gasoline tax and motor registration fees.

Members of the board will procure as many names to the petition as they can at odd times and authority was given the secretary to employ one person to circulate the petition. The chamber will get as many names as it can, but will not attempt to secure the 1500 or more signatures expected from Santa Ana.

It was estimated at the meeting that if division of the receipts is made between the county and the city, Santa Ana would receive annually approximately $8000.

RUM WARRANT IS QUASHED IN COURT

The warrant on which dry agents, June 18, searched the Los Angeles home of Henry C. Lee, vice president and general manager of the Los Alamitos Sugar company, had been quashed in Los Angeles today by United States Commissioner Long.

At the time of the raid liquor said to have been valued at $7500 was taken by the dry agents. Nullification of the warrant followed the statement made by an officer that in his affidavit supporting the search warrant he did not mean to say or to imply that he had knowledge of an illegal sale of liquor at the Lee residence.

The motion to quash was made by Joe Burke, United States district attorney. Return of the liquor seized by the officers will have to be made on order of the district court, according to Commissioner Long.

Cancellation also was made of the search warrant issued at the same time for a search of the home of J. Ross Clark, father-in-law of Lee.

NOT OUTPUT TO SUFFER SLIGHT DROP, VIEW

Notwithstanding the serious shortage of rainfall during the winter and spring, and in spite of the fact that growing conditions in many districts were somewhat below normal, it was indicated in the midsummer crop estimate just completed by the California Walnut Growers' association that this year's production of walnuts will be only about 2.7 per cent less than the 1923 harvest amounted to.

Details concerning the estimate were received here today by members of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association, one of the groups comprising the main body.

According to Carlyle Thorpe, Los Angeles, manager of the main association, the associated growers will this year harvest about 47,492,000 pounds, compared to 48,810,000 pounds which was the total of last year's crop.

Reliable Estimate.
It is the belief of the association that the new crop estimate will be far more reliable than that of the previous year, it being based upon a new system of estimating, which was worked out by Prof. L. D. Batchelor of the division of orchard management, University of California.

The association this year offered a group of trophies and cash prizes to local growers' associations for the sake of getting quicker action and greater accuracy in the matter of compiling the crop report. This resulted in keener grower interest, it is asserted, and the central organization was able to get prompt, and it is believed, accurate results.

Locals representing more than 90 per cent of the association's entire yearly output of walnuts reported promptly, and the probable harvest was based upon percentages secured from those estimates.

Offer Cash Prizes.
The central association obtains a midsummer estimate each year in order to ascertain approximately how many thousands tons of walnuts it will have to dispose of, because the trade in general places its orders for future shipments, during the summer months, and it is necessary for the sales department to have a fairly good idea of the crop's size in order to make the allotments on an equitable basis.

A cash prize of $125 goes to the local association whose crop estimate proves to be the nearest to the correct tonnage shown at the end of the harvest. Second prize is $100 and third is $50. Secretaries or managers of the winning local associations will receive personal prizes ranging from $15 to $50. Individual grower prizes, for the most careful and accurate estimates of orchard yield will range from $5 to $25. The local associations showing the best general record will receive trophies.

Association officials report that the quality of this year's walnuts will compare favorably with the quality of last year's harvest.

PREVENTORIUM DUE TO OPEN SATURDAY

With the preventorium camp for tubercularly-inclined children scheduled to be opened in Trabuco canyon Saturday, Mrs. J. H. Stewart, chairman of the special committee on child welfare of the Orange Parent-Teacher association, today issued an appeal to other associations of the county to forward to her at once money they were said to have promised in support of the camp.

Recalling that at a recent meeting of the executive committee of the county association, individual associations pledged their influence and aid in establishing the camp, Mrs. Stewart said that money is needed now to assist in the camp operations.

"Many of the associations have already contributed in the camp. They will be children who are underweight and who are on the verge of tuberculosis. The camp may be the means of preventing the disease developing in many of the little ones. The camp is one of the means of combating the dread disease."

Miss Amelia Meagher, public health nurse with the Orange County Tuberculosis association, who will have charge of the camp was at the site today completing plans for opening Saturday.

FINE LIBRARY AT MESA IS PROMISED

COSTA MESA, July 10.—On a tract of land nearly 300 feet square, situated between Newport boulevard, Nineteenth street and Long Beach avenue, will be erected a library building and a play ground, it is claimed, will give Costa Mesa, one of the finest centers of its kind in the west.

This beautiful area is being donated by Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Spencer, and it is believed that work on laying out the ground and constructing the building will start in the early fall, or as soon as the plans can be perfected.

"When the project is completed," stated Mr. Spencer today, "it is the intention to donate the ground and building to the municipality when Costa Mesa is annexed to the harbor district."

"The library will contain reading rooms and rest rooms. It is our purpose to make it as up-to-date as structures of this kind can be. The grounds surrounding it will be converted into a park with playgrounds for the kiddies and will, of course, be for the free use of the people at all times."

The Costa Mesa library is now safely settled in its new location in the corner room next to the Greener Furniture store on Eighteenth street. Mr. Rochester has offered to take charge of the reading room in the evenings. The library will be open every afternoon except Mondays.

The following articles have been ordered: Magazine rack, book display rack, dictionary and atlas stand, attendant's desk, standard wall shelving and children's benches, while a list of magazines and periodicals will soon be on hand. The new location is more commodious, as it was found that the old room on the second floor of the bank building had become too small for the demands being made on an institution not yet a year old.

What Profits Do Knitting Mills Pay?

The principal products of The Orange Blossom Knitting Mill will be high grade silk hose and silk and woolen sweaters. The manufacturer's net profit on a pair of seamless silk hose is only 25c. On Full Fashioned silk hose the manufacturer makes a net profit of 50c. The average priced silk and wool sweater nets the maker $1.65. These are not imaginary figures. They are based on actual working conditions in the average mill. They are the net profit figures any modern knitting mill would arrive at, using the modern cost-finding system. The figures sound like a very small margin of profit, yet they amount to handsome earnings in the aggregate.

Capacity Orange Blossom Knitting Mills, Per Week of 48 Hours, Working One Shift Only:

100 Doz. Silk Full Fashioned Hose, net profit per Doz. pairs, $6 .....$600.00
200 Doz. Silk Seamless Hose, net profit per Doz. Pairs, $3 .....$600.00
45 Doz. Silk and Wool Sweaters, net profit Doz. $20 .....$900.00

Total net profit per week .....$1,200.00
Total net profit per year .....$109,200.00

Distribution:
144,000 Shares Preferred, 8% .....$11,520.00
184,000 Shares Common, 50% .....$92,000.00
Surplus left on hand .....$ 5,680.00
$109,200.00

It would be perfectly practical to run the plant two shifts instead of one, and that will undoubtedly be done, at least in certain seasons. It would be altogether possible and practical to run THREE shifts if business justified it. The possibilities are enormous. But we are not promising a definite return on common stock. It is not possible to predict profits accurately. In order to be ultra conservative, let us say that the plant will only be run ONE-HALF OF ONE SHIFT, or only 24 hours per week. Then the annual net profit would only be $54,600, to be distributed about as follows:

144,000 Shares Preferred stock, 8% .....$11,520.00
184,000 Shares Common Stock, 16% .....$29,440.00
Surplus left on hand .....$13,640.00
$54,600.00

We already have a plant in operation and the market established. Orange Blossom Knit Goods are now being sold all over the Southland. But if conditions ever become so depressed in Southern California that a hosiery mill is only justified in running ONE-HALF OF ONE SHIFT, then the average business man will be fortunate if he owns stock in something that is still operating at a nice profit.

Business Is Always Good In a Hosiery Mill
You are now offered Orange Blossom Knitting Mills stock in units of two shares of preferred and one share of common, all par at $1.00 per share, at the price of TWO DOLLARS PER UNIT. There is nothing about this proposition that you can find fault with. It shouldn't be necessary to SELL this. Local people ought to come and BUY it. It is an important development for Orange County and there is no telling the great possibilities it will lead to. You are asked to join your friends and neighbors in an enterprise, the soundness and desirability of which is perfectly apparent.

INDUSTRY LAND SUBSCRIPTION NOW $35,000

Subscriptions totaling $35,000 have been made to the Santa Ana Industrial Land company. O. H. Barr, a member of the committee engaged in financing the company, announced today.

Stating that all of the subscription had been made on condition that $45,000 be subscribed, Barr said it was the hope of the committee that the remaining $10,000 would be pledged by Saturday.

Committees were at work today, he said, endeavoring to secure more subscribers.

Barr also announced completion of the club of ten men and firms pledging $20,000 each. The club has provided $20,000 of the $35,000 pledged.

Business men forming the committees at work soliciting subscriptions from J. S. Smart, A. N. Zerman, A. B. Rousseau, H. A. Gardner, John Knox, Stanley Clem, Roy Russell, Frank Purinton, Carl Mock, J. P. Baumgartner and H. M. Miller.

"We need $10,000 to complete our organization," said Barr. "The company is being organized purely for the purpose of helping to secure industrial sites here. We propose buying a tract of land suitable for industrial sites and holding it for sale exclusively to manufacturing concerns."

"We believe that by acquiring acreage at today's valuations, and reselling the property at cost plus carrying charges, we will be in position to offer real inducements to responsible firms seeking a location. We can protect such concerns against high-priced industrial sites. The company does not propose giving away the sites and every man who helps in the financing will have every dollar returned, plus interest."

NEWPORT BEACH, July 10. — Because visitors to Newport and Balboa have been ignoring the traffic rules and because the residents of the beach cities are becoming lax, a campaign against negligent auto drivers has been launched by the police of this city with eleven arrests made Monday. The violators drew small fines in police court this morning with Hall warning from Judge Byron that further violations will draw heavy fines, and if the heavier fines do not bring results jail sentences.

At last the actor that does not simulate emotions—that is not a slave to the director's exhortations—the actor that follows no school of interpretation and acts with simple but telling naturalness. Never do you doubt his meaning.

And this actor is the magnificent wild stallion that runs off with the whole show in "The King of Wild Horses," which was shown for the first time yesterday at the Yost theater, where it will remain until Saturday to thrill and amaze the multitudes.

"The King of Wild Horses" was written by Hal Roach, who also produced it. It is the story of a wild stallion—a king among his kind. Rivals have challenged his leadership, and he has conquered. Man had sought to capture him and failed, until Billy Blair took up the chase solely for the honor of capturing the beautiful creature.

CALIF. NOTED FOR HARD PAVED ROADS

California has long been noted as a well paved state and probably no section of the United States has capitalized its good roads or made greater returns therefrom than has this state.

Nature helped it in many respects by giving it road-making material such as asphalt, which twenty years ago was laid in different towns and cities as a matter of convenience to the local people more than with an idea of advertising to be derived from good roads.

The advantage of hard surfaced highways, however, soon became apparent and the result has been that California has laid mile after mile of asphaltic concrete highways, many of which have now been giving steady and continuous service for a period of upwards of twenty years.

It is particularly noticeable that the towns in California which have prospered and become the most pleasant places to live are the ones which have shown the greatest activity in ridding themselves of mud and dust as a result of well worked out paving programs.

Neighboring states can profit much by California's paving experience from the standpoint of commercial returns therefrom, convenience to citizens and cost to taxpayers for maintenance of various types of construction.

Committee of 50 Executive Group Meets Tomorrow

The executive committee of the harbor committee of fifty will meet at noon tomorrow at St. Ann's Inn here, according to an announcement made today by L. F. Coburn, president of the committee, and chairman of the executive body.

Plans will be made for a gathering to be held the latter part of this month when the general committee will meet with officials of the harbor commission of Los Angeles. Plans also will be discussed for preparing the general report to the county board of supervisors.

The executive committee is composed of L. F. Coburn, chairman; C. L. Crumrine, Henry M. Adams, J. K. Hermon, Harry Welch, J. P. Greeley, H. H. Hale, Hugh T. Thomson, J. S. Smart, D. Eymann Huff and Frank Ainsworth.

tences will follow.

Merchants in Balboa have complained that motorists have been parking their cars in front of business houses with the result that customers cannot find sufficient room to park close to the stores. Motorists also have been parking in forbidden spaces and consequently tying up traffic in the narrow streets at Balboa.

Warnings have been issued to these violators, according to the police, but have had no effect. Consequently the drive against illegal parking and motorists who fail to give proper signals at corners has been launched.

"Our Removal Sale of Furniture is too wide in scope to sell by hurry-flurry methods."

"Our prices DO stand without comparison. We have sold lots of merchandise. People are satisfied—but there are two rooms, two balconies and a store house still packed with unusual values (we mean it!) awaiting still more people who want to save money on home furnishings of Every kind."

MILLINERY SHOP IS LOCATED IN NEW HOME

Explaining that more room was absolutely essential to the further expansion of her business, Mrs. Tena Roberts, proprietress of the Mode Millinery, today announced that her establishment was completely moved from its former home of ten years, 417 North Main street, to the new structure just completed on Sycamore street at the rear of the building occupied by the Rankin Drygoods store.

The new home of the millinery has a frontage of forty-four feet on North Sycamore street and a depth of 113 feet. Mrs. Roberts' business will require the basement and main floor, and she is sub-leasing the thirteen office rooms in the second story. The building was erected by Fred Rohrs of this city.

Stating that she now had 10,000 feet of floor space, Mrs. Roberts disclosed plans for enlarging her millinery enterprise to include both wholesale and retail operation, thus employing a larger staff of millinery experts. The French room, trimmed hat and children's hat rooms will be in charge of special designers. Rest rooms are located on the mezzanine floor and other conveniences have been provided for patrons.

"I have every faith in the future of Santa Ana and see now the possibility of developing here an enterprise that in later years may become one of the largest in the city," Mrs. Roberts declared. "It will be my purpose to keep my establishment just a little ahead of the city and increase its service to patrons and the community."

U. S. Assured Of Olympiad Victory

GREAT FINNISH RUNNER FIRST IN GRIND

Nurmi Loafs to Victory In 1500 Meter; Buker and Hahn Score For Yanks

COLOMBES STADIUM, Paris, July 10.—Despite gallant efforts by America's best middle distance men, Paavo Nurmi, the great Finnish runner, scores ten points for his country today when he won as he pleased in the 1500 meter finals, breaking the Olympic record.

Jumping into the lead at the gun, Nurmi set his own pace all the way and won by thirty yards, loafing along at the end. Had he been pushed, the marvelous Finn would certainly have broken a world's record.

Ray Watson of the Illinois A. C., made a courageous attempt to stay with Nurmi and clung to his heels until they entered the stretch. Then Watson fell behind and finished seventh, completely exhausted. Ray Buker, teammate of Watson, and Lloyd Hahn of Baltimore, finished fifth and sixth respectively.

Assured of Victory
The United States is assured of victory in the 1924 Olympic track and field games.

Thanks to the sterling performances of our athletes on the first four days, we have piled up a lead of 62 points over Finland, our closest competitor. And allowing the Finns three more first places in the runs and possible victories in the field, there is only the faintest ghost of a show that the American team can be beaten. We qualified for the seven finalists, and might make a clean sweep of this event, which was scheduled for 3:30 p. m.

In other events to be contested, such as the hammer throw and the 400 meters, the United States had great strength.

Nurmi Easy Winner
The first victory in a final event today went to Finland when that country's unparalleled running machine, Nurmi, captured first place in the 1500-meter run.

Nurmi broke an Olympic record in winning this event. Scharer of Switzerland was second.

Hagen First Yank Golfer to Capture British Open Title

This picture of Walter Hagen, winner of the British open golf crown, was taken as he played at Hoylake. Hagen was the first American-born golfer to win the British championship. He won the title in 1922, finished second in 1923 and came back this year for another victory.

Yank Golf Stars Play Britishers

LONDON, July 10.—Walter Hagen and MacDonald Smith, representing America, play George Duncan and Ave Mitchell, British pros 72 holes of match play today and tomorrow.

Followed by two Englishmen, Stallard and Lowe. Ray Buker and Lloyd Hahn, U. S. A., were fifth and sixth respectively. Finland thus counted ten points and America three.

Gaston Vidal, French minister of sport, told the United Press that the 1928 Olympic games will be in Los Angeles.

"I understand from a reliable source that Amsterdam intends to waive her claim," M. Vidal said. "We will bring a strong French team to Los Angeles."

DAD MECK'S 10-PIN TEAM BEATS LOCALS

Visitors Lucky to Garner 3 to 1 Victory; Fail To Show Strength

Dad Meck's celebrated bowling team, reputed to be one of the best in Southern California, defeated Max Ames' All-Stars at the A. and B. alleys here last night but in so doing showed only flashes of their reputed strength.

The visitors got away with three out of four points but were always menaced by the local shooters who took the last game handily and were nosed out of the opening engagement by only two pins.

Dad Meck's, once the Babe Ruth of the Pacific coast league, while he was catching for the Los Angeles Angels, bowled in the clean-up position for his five but had tough luck throughout. He rolled 166-195-147.

FARRELL AND RYAN REMATCHED AT H. B.

Billy Ryan and Young Farrell, well known Southern bantamweights, will tangle in the main event at the Huntington Beach arena again tomorrow night. Promoter Kid Mexico announced here today. Ryan and Farrell, old time foes, staged a "grudge" fight last Friday night. Ringsiders called their draw one of the best bouts ever seen in Orange county.

The rest of Mexico's card follows: Young Terry vs. Scotty Diest, 145 pounds; Bobby Herman vs. Young Aragone, 118 pounds; Wallopington Wilson vs. Marshall Jiggs, 118 pounds; Merna Kelly vs. Eddie Conroy, 128 pounds; Kid Montana vs. Eddie Ford, 123 pounds.

Zbyszko Throws Yussif Hussane

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—Stanislav Zbyszko, former heavyweight wrestling champion, proved himself far from a has-been last night when he threw Yussif Hussane, alleged Turkish champion, twice in less than an hour. The first tumbler came after 57 minutes of wrestling when the mighty Pole clamped down with a toe-hold. The second fall took Zbyszko but two minutes was effected with the same hold.

Griffin, Murphy Head Holly Card

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—Hollywood will present tomorrow at its feature boxing bout at the Legion stadium a four-round mill with "Dandy Dick" Griffin and Dynamite Joe Murphy as principals. Alec Maurice and Jimmy Marcus step in the semi-final spot while Frankie Osner and Joe Medina come together in the main preliminary.

Yesterday's hero—Johnny Mostil, of the White Sox. He busted out two helpful homers as his team nosed out the world's champions, 8 to 6.

CHARLEY PADDOCK IN FORM

The former "fastest human" suffered defeat again yesterday in the 200 meters dash at Paris but only after one of the most thrilling races in the history of the modern Olympic Games. He was second to the winner, Jack Scholz, an American, by inches. Dispatches said Paddock, who led until the last ten yards, lost his race by looking over his shoulder at Scholz in the last desperate lunge for the tape. Scholz equalled the Olympic record to beat the star Californian.

SPORTS of all SORTS

Unless a change is made in the Jockey club rules, this may be the last season that Earl Sande, the last season that Earl Sande, justly popular rider for the Ranocas stables, will be seen in action on the American turf.

Of course, there will be many races in this country at weights suited to the Ranocas stables' star rider, but riding but once in a while would rob Sande of the "feel" of the game and deprive him of the popularity he has so justly earned.

Aside from his ability to boot home winners, young Sande is distinguished—and the word is used advisedly—for his gentlemanly manner and good sportsmanship. Among men, he they stewards, owners, trainers, or riders, who have brought credit to the American turf, Sande ranks high.

This tow-headed lad rode his first winner seven years ago. It is to be hoped that Sande has been kicking them home ever since. There are lots of race fans who back Earl, not his side, and they're right oftener than they're wrong.

RIVAL LEADERS CONFIDENT AS SERIES NEAR

Lackaye, Trickey Predict Victory In Commercial, Irvine Title Series

Just like reg'lar big league pilots, George Lackaye, "master mind" of the Santa Ana Commercial company's baseball crew, and Arthur Trickey, boss of the Irvine Beantickers, today issued their pre-battle statements of confidence as the day drew near for the first game of the series between the rival clubs for the championship of the Orange County Baseball league. The teams mingle at Irvine Sunday.

Lackaye, whose team remains undefeated after ten games, said he had a hunch his men would win two straight.

"We've beaten Irvine twice and I believe we can 'take' them again," he said.

Mr. Trickey said he expected two bitterly fought contests but predicted an Irvine victory. He said his team was playing in its best form again after a temporary fit of staleness.

The WELL-DRESSED MAN By BEAUNASH

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion.

miration. To be forgetful of self is the primary principle of correct dress. Otherwise, one's clothes are not worn with ease, and without ease, there cannot be smartness.

In the seclusion of your room: you can wear what you please of course. However, he with whom correct dress is a conviction, not an affectation, pays the same fastidious heed to the clothes he sleeps in as to those he walks and works in. It is the way of a gentleman. And so, well-cut, well-fitting, becoming, comfortable pajamas are an important item in the wardrobe, deserving of far more deliberate choice than they usually receive.

Latter-day pajamas, as the accompanying sketch proves, are cut and trimmed with all the nicety of street or evening clothes. The most luxurious are of rich silk, or silk interlarded with brightly contrasting color. The tops have collar and breast pocket. The trousers are cut wide and with lines to them, instead of like a brace of stovepipes. The style illustrated fastens at the left side with large pearl buttons. Others have frogs or loops. The collar is the double turnover shape that lends quite a look of smartness. Perhaps the newest pajamas have short, peaked lapels just like a coat. For hot weather no pajama fabric is equal to silk, because it is lightest and coolest, though too much wear cannot be expected of it. Garments made of cotton, mull, madras and mercerized mixtures are strong, serviceable and economical, if you must reckon cost first.

MISS ALIAS

BY DOUGLAS GRANT

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Sallie Peck, employee of the Fair Deal Five & Ten, quarrels with her policeman sweetheart, Michael Curtis. That night Sallie goes into the back yard to take down a washing for Ma Brennan, with whom Sallie lives. A crash shakes the earth and something strikes Sallie a blow on the head.

When she regains consciousness, the girl finds herself in strange surroundings, handsomely furnished. A French maid named Therese calls her Alva Copeland and Madams Copeland, a tall, richly gowned woman, claims her as her step-daughter. Sallie is taken to meet Cousin Wheeler, who makes love to her. Sallie resolves to solve the mystery. She discovers that she is being doped and when the nurse gives her a tablet to swallow Sallie holds it in the palm of her hand without placing it in her mouth. Then she feigns sleep.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"Very good!" the doctor murmured. "She will do nicely until morning."

They went out, closing the door softly, and Sallie fancied that she heard a key turn in the lock. After an interval she arose and tip-toed again to the window. Dr. Qualters' car had turned in and pulled up under the shadows of the trees on the opposite side of the Avenue but another was just drawing out at the curb. It was a huge roadster and a tall gaunt figure emerged from it clad in an ulster which flapped in the strong night wind.

The man turned for an instant to speak to the chauffeur and in the rays of the lamp his sharp aquiline profile showed as clearly cut as though on the screen; then he turned and started across the sidewalk directly below the watching girl and his car moved on slowly up the Avenue.

Sallie turned and looked quickly about her. The soft pink bathrobe which Miss Tidmarsh had substituted for her tea-gown lay over the foot of the chaise longue with a pair of pink mules beside it on the floor and though it was conspicuously light for her purpose Sallie wrapped it about her and thrust her feet in the slippers.

The door was locked as she had anticipated, but not for nothing had Mike once shown her the uses to which a bent wire could be put, and there was plenty of strong hairpins in the drawer of the dressing table. Five minutes of patient, cautious twisting in the lock brought a reassuring click to her ears as the key turned back and in another moment she was in the hall with the door closed behind her.

Rich, subdued lights glowed from side brackets and up from the well of the staircase but the house was silent.

Wrapping her robe more tightly about her she went to the rail and peered upward and then below but no one was visible and while she paused a deep-toned clock from somewhere in the house boomed out twelve solemn strokes.

Sallie plunged forward and descended like a silent little pink streak to the floor below. Here the hall widened and several closed doors faced her but although she listened at each no sound came from behind them.

The second flight was broader and curved outward, the huge, bronze lamp on the newel post sent warm rays into the corner of the spacious entrance hall and as the girl crept downward she heard at last the subdued rumble of masculine voices from behind the middle door of three on the opposite side of the house.

Sallie advanced toward it step by step and bent to peer through the keyhole. The strange man with the sharp aquiline features was seated at a huge table almost facing her with some papers spread out before him. Bookcases towered against the wall back of his chair and Mrs. Copeland's gray sleeve and heavily ringed hand came within the girl's range of vision beside him, while the back of Dr. Qualters' sleek head was before her and a shadow which moved restlessly up and down indicated that Wheeler Sloat was pacing the floor.

The rumble of voices went on but not a distinct word reached her ears and in exasperation Sallie straightened and made for the next door toward the rear. The knob turned beneath her hand and she found herself in a dining room. She gave scarcely a glance at the massive furniture and great crystal chandeliers but turned anxiously toward the wall at her right on the farther side of which that conference was taking place. Curtains hung over an arched entrance-way and drawing them noiselessly aside Sallie discovered a pair of folding doors.

She listened once more but only that maddening monotone of voices reached her and in desperation she pressed against the doors and pushed them apart for the barest fraction of an inch, then let the draperies fall in place behind her.

"Perfectly satisfactory as far as the girl's record is concerned." A man's voice which she had never heard before uttered the words in subdued but rich, carrying tones. "Orphan, no living relatives known, shop-girl, popular but no intimate friends among her own sex except the old Brennan woman with whom she made her home; believed to have been engaged to—"

"Oh, for heaven's sake, cut all that and let us get down to brass tacks, Bellows!" It was unmistakably Sloat's exclamation. "Sallie Peck is dead and buried!"

Wasn't her funeral yesterday?" Sallie recoiled and clutched the heavy curtains for support. Sheer horror overwhelmed her for a moment, but a sharp cry from Mrs. Copeland brought her back to her senses.

"Wheeler! How can you be so—so inhuman! How can you speak so callously of the—the dead!"

"Well, we've got to face the facts as they stand, haven't we, if we're going on with this?" Sallie held her breath and peering through the crevice between the doors she saw that Sloat had halted sullenly beside Mrs. Copeland's chair. "We don't care anything about the girl or her past as long as there is nothing to reach out from it and interfere with us now, and it can't if it was sealed up yesterday in that grave!"

Sallie felt the horror rising again but back of it a fierce resentment that burned itself up as though by fire. She'd show that beast in three days that she was very much alive before she was through with him!

"Graves sometimes open, Mr. Sloat!" The judicial tones of Bellows replied. "I was about to get down to 'brass tacks,' as you term it, when you interrupted, or perhaps we had better say brass buttons. The young man to whom—the late Miss Sarah Peck is reputed to have been engaged, is a member of the police force, a detective sergeant, in fact. His name is Michael Curtis and his record, though broken by overseas service, is a comparatively brilliant one. If any doubt should enter his mind even now that the funeral is over, he may prove a positive menace to us."

"You could have him broken, couldn't you?" Sloat demanded coolly and Sallie clenched her hands.

"Of course—and give cause to those whose influence I would be compelled to employ—for wonder why I, the personal attorney for a prominent family who were minor victims of that catastrophe, should desire the removal of this obscure young official, particularly if there were any hint of trouble in the future from the young lady upstairs."

"There will be none," Sallie's stout heart quailed at the implacable hardness of the third masculine voice which entered the conversation. Could those be the suave, unctuous tones of Dr. Qualters? "I can answer for that. Whether Mr. Sloat's plans succeed or fail that grave can never be permitted to give up its dead." The level, unemotional tones made the monstrous utterance all the more horrible and a sickening

SALLIE ADVANCED TOWARD IT STEP BY STEP

nausea swept over the listening girl but she fought back desperately for the lawyer was speaking again.

"What do you think of the girl's possibilities, Mrs. Copeland? You had an opportunity to study her today. In the event that she proves tractable, can she be trained so that she will pass muster?"

"She is a common little creature, half-literate, but I should not consider her stupid, by any means," Sallie's face stung hotly at the contemptuous drawl. "She has a temper and a will of her own but she conducted herself rather cleverly today. Don't you think so, Wheeler?"

Sloat laughed shortly. "Oh, she'll do!" he replied. "She tried to pump me about the accident when you left us alone this afternoon but aside from that she was purely on the defensive, trying to discover why we had brought her here, without showing her own hand. Oh, you won't have any trouble with her! I know her kind! Give her jewelry and clothes and luxury, show her a little life—she probably has been nowhere except behind the counter and to a cheap motion picture or on an excursion—and she'll be glad to forget that hole she came from and everyone in it!"

"Not if she happens to be in love in the silly, romantic fashion of girls of her class," Mrs. Copeland observed.

Sallie leaned her head against the door for a moment and blinding tears stung her eyelids but she winked them fiercely back. "Oh, she'll forget this young sleuth of hers!" Sloat's easy assurance made Sallie straighten suddenly. "We're lucky she hasn't a pack of relations and that the Brennan woman made the identification with such glib confidence! Lord, when that old creature came storming half-crazed through the emergency just as we were getting the girl out, all wrapped up, to the ambulance to take her to the special, I thought it was all up with my brilliant scheme!"

"That's bad!" There came a rustle as though the lawyer were moving the papers about in annoyance. "Did anyone pay much attention to her?"

"The confusion and excitement were indescribable!" Mrs. Copeland put her hands to her ears as though to shut the sound of it forever from her memory. "It was merely a sort of first-aid establishment set up hastily in some sheds, you know, and the few railroad officials who were there could not cope with the situation. The old woman clung to one of them and described the girl she was looking for, with her name and occupation and many things about her."

Commercial Secs. Session Is Sought

NEWPORT BEACH, July 10.—The August meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Secretaries of Southern California will be held at either Newport Beach or Balboa if the efforts of Harry Welch, Harbor secretary and George Neill, secretary of the Balboa Chamber of Commerce, prove fruitful.

Both Neill and Welch will attend the meeting of the secretaries on Monday of next week at Hollywood and while there will launch a concerted campaign to bring the next meeting here.

The meeting in Hollywood next Monday promises to be one of the busiest ever held. The secretaries will be called to order by President J. C. Metzgar at 10:30 o'clock and business will be transacted until noon when a dinner will be served for the visitors at the Hollywood Athletic club at noon. Prominent national and state speakers will address the noon meeting.

In the afternoon the visitors will attend a showing of the "Thief of Bagdad," at Grauman's Egyptian theater. A dinner in the evening will be followed by a visit to the Pilgrimage play.

"Carbon"-Free Motors

How to enjoy them for many extra months

THOUGH all motor oils deposit a carbonaceous residue, there is a vital difference in the kind and quantity which various oils leave in the motor.

That from many oils becomes hard and flinty. It accumulates rapidly and must be removed every 2000 to 4000 miles. This may require a motor "lay-up" every two or three months.

In addition, the presence of this hard "carbon" even in small quantities is a constant cause of trouble.

It becomes incandescent, pre-igniting the gas and thus causes "knocking."

It lodges under valves and prevents tight seating which dissipates the power.

It attaches to spark plugs, short circuits the spark and causes "missing."

And its flint-like character makes it an abrasive which constantly threatens to score cylinders.

But these "carbon" troubles can be eliminated by a careful selection of your motor oil.

For Aristo Motor Oil deposits an entirely different kind of residue.

It is soft and fluffy, most of it blowing out with the exhaust. It accumulates not more than a quarter as fast as the flinty "carbon."

Being softer than the metals in your motor it can not scratch them. Because it does not lodge under valves, it does not cause power leaks. It rarely fouls spark plugs.

Thus you see why you can have a "carbon"-free motor for thousands of extra miles by merely selecting the right lubricating oil.

Drain your crank case, fill with Aristo, and use it unmixed with any other kind of oil.

You save the cost of "carbon" removal, you enjoy the more constant use of your car and you prevent the danger to your motor which always accompanies the hard, flinty, abrasive kind of "carbon."

Try this plan now. And enjoy the freedom from "carbon" troubles which thousands of motorists attest.

For sale at all first-class garages and service stations.

A PUZZLE A DAY

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

"IN AMERICA I RODE A HORSE AND SAW NOTHING, BUT IN EGYPT, WHERE I RODE A CAMEL, MIRAGES WERE OFTEN SEEN."

These were the words of a traveler, who was contrasting various methods of locomotion. He seems to attribute mirages to the rolling path of a camel, which is a new theory! The interesting feature of his statement, however, is that his words conceal the name of his home city, in New York state and also the name of the Egyptian city from which he started on his camel journey.

The names are there, in full view. Can you find them?

Yesterday's answer:

The field was divided into eight triangular sections, as shown above. The sections are all of the same size and shape, with a tree in the same position in each section.
